THE OUTLOOK FOR 1896.

What is the outlook for 1896? In alem we have some hopes of new nanufactures. The woolen mills will rebuilt on a larger scale. At least ne other manufacturing concern will started with private capital. There ill be considerable in the way of ublic improvements by the county, ty and state.

The county should not further neget its court house property. There great need of a new jail. The old world of commerce. Neither should unitary standpoint. It is not sewered Colonel Hofer has for many years derventilated or lighted as a jail should voted his best energies to improved in a Christian community. It is poultry breeds. In fact, poultry thy and hardly fit to put an animal raising, politics and the bicycle, have over night, to say nothing of being occupied all his time and employed all ecure. re of its property, and the streets hich it uses to reach the public initutions. These streets now resemcow lanes. They should be turnich side with a view to beauty in the nake a million brick, not a step has een taken toward building a sewer dequate to carry off the drainage from two great institutions. Some of the finest residences in the city are now flooded with water from the state sewer up to the first floors. Families have had to vacate and left he city. But the sewer has not even een surveyed. It seems nothing can e done for the city in this respect beause the tax must yet be levied. But he survey could at least be made, and JOURNAL. he work platted, so that the city night know where it would be located. The outlook for the city from the tandpoint of the city itself, is not nfavorable. The city government now within its means, except that city hall is built but not paid for. the city should at once provide means pay for it. A sinking fund of wo mills of the ten mills of the city ax levy should be set aside pay for it. The city hall ebt should not be made larger inless means are provided to pay the ebt. The city does not need within 10,000 of its income for 1895. By loser economy Mayor Gatch thinks hat surplus can be increased. It is robable that by further economy a plendid sinking fund could be created or the city hall.

THE JOURNAL believes in taking a heerful view of things. We have intered upon a presidental election rear, usually a hard year to do busiless. But we believe it will be a better year than 1895. It cannot be worse. THE JOURNAL believes in protecting Salem business interests. It believes in business men standing by each other and extending a helping hand to each other. It believes in the business men of Salem giving all the assistance in their power to legitimate industries and enterprises that are practical and that can be made to appear practicable from a business standpoint. It was really not hard to get $25,000 stock taken in the new woolen mills when it could be shown that it was practicable and would pay as an investment.

But The Journal believes no support or encouragement should be extended to enterprises of a speculative or questionable character. Mere schemers who do not intend to make a permanent home here should be given a cold shoulder. With these thoughts in mind and with a cordial, cheerful, helpful, friendly disposition to assist one another, there is no reason why the people of Salem need not look forward this year without fear and troubling.

A CACKLING TIME.

GOVERNOR FLETCHER'S STIRRING CON-TRIBUTION ON POULTRY.

There is to be a poultry exhibit in Salem on the 11th day of next month The show will take place in the armory. An excellent program will be prepared for entertaining those who may wish to patronize it. This is all right and we hope that those who are now tendering the farmers so much good advice regarding the hen, will be present and give the people further useful knowledge respecting that bird. We would suggest to the committee that they do not lose sight of our friend of the Statesman-Mr. Irvine. who doubtless, will be able to edify the audience with a treatise on the merits of the "intensified" hen, and oats as feed for fattening hog. When a hen has retired from business after a long and eventful life as an egg manufacturer, the unfeeling huxter throws her on the market as a spring chicken. We trust Mr. Irvine will be able to devise some plan by which this business can be checked and the "intensified" hen be thus permitted to assume her rightful place in the is unfit for occupancy from a THE JOURNAL office be overlooked. als faculties for the past year, and s getting out.
